

BY DEMPSEY | REPORTER

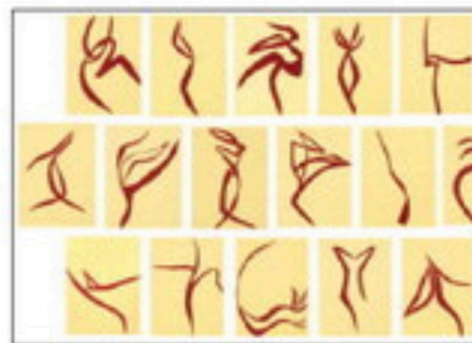

Artist Margaret Garrett creates works in media, many inspired by her background as a ballet dancer. Among her newest body of work in honor of the centennial's suffrage. "Lost in the shuffle lately, the joy of commemorating," she said, "is the anniversary of the 19th Amendment,

Celebrating the vote

Artist interprets history

which gave women the right to vote."

In celebration of the 19th Amendment, Ms. Garrett has created a new set of prints inspired by 19 dance poses selected by the Martha Graham Dance Company. This new work will be shown in two upcoming solo exhibitions at New York's Planthouse Gallery. She also has an exhibit of work that will be available for viewing on the Island Sept. 5 and 6 by appointment. Please email info@planthouse.net for details. The image representing the flag is a still picture taken from a video, Garrett danced in a red and a blue dress titled "Elegy" composed by her husband Wolosoff. The video can be seen on margaretgarrett.com.

Left: "Elegy"; Acrylic on paper, still from sir video. Above: "The 19"; Acrylic on paper, cut a